

AristotleK12 and ClassLink Partner to Provide Improved Access

ONALASKA, WISCONSIN, UNITED STATES, February 9, 2024

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Sergeant Laboratories, creators of AristotleK12, and ClassLink have partnered to support single sign-on capabilities and class roster processing services to shared ClassLink and AristotleK12 customers at no additional cost. This partnership elevates the AristotleK12 user experience, ensuring users have timely access by way of ClassLink to needed Student Information System Data.

This partnership will support more than 18 million students by combining AristotleK12's granular student technology management solution with ClassLink's widely-adopted access, analytics, and identity management platform.

"ClassLink and AristotleK12 are a natural fit. This partnership further supports our goal to take the complexity out of digital learning, remove distractions from the classroom, and give educators more time to support their students' learning." Patrick Devanney, Senior VP of Strategy and Partnerships, ClassLink

A timely solution, this partnership helps ClassLink's mission of empowering educators to improve learning through innovative systems, services, and tools like AristotleK12.

"We are excited to begin our partnership with ClassLink. We are always seeking continual improvement, and we believe this partnership does just that and will provide great benefit to shared AristotleK12 and ClassLink customers." Eric Anderholm, CEO, Sergeant Laboratories.
